DEBATE OVER THE NEW TARIFF BILL

Final Speeches to be Made Tonight—Five-Minute Rule Tomorrow.

CURRENCY REFORM

President Wilson Announces His Willingness to Have it Taken up After Revenue Bill.

Washington, April 28.—When the House met today the end of the general debate on the Underwood tariff bill was in sight. The final oratorical broadsides will be fired at a night session, and tomorrow will begin the more peppery bombarding under the five minute rule.

The House expects to debate the bill for a week or ten days under the five minute rule, which carries with it the privilege of offering amendments.

The bill will be read section by section by section with Republicans and Bull Moose members seek to perfect it—from their viewpoint. No amendments are expected to carry, however, and the bill will be on its way to the Senate early in May.

Congressman Underwood, majority leader, said today that following the passage of the tariff bill, probably a day will be devoted to the Sims-Glover controversy. The House then will mark time for a few days, while the Ways and Means Committee is making up the standing committees of the House. The task of distributing committee assignments is a delicate and bothersome one, and Mr. Underwood thinks it may take from two to four weeks to apportion the committee plums.

Currency legislation now seems to have the right of way after the tariff bill is sent to the upper chamber. President Wilson has passed the word along that he is willing to have currency reform taken up at the extra session, if such a program does not interfere with the tariff.

BISHOP CRANSTON'S SERMON.

Yesterday Bishop Cranston of Washington, D.C., spoke at Trinity on "I am come not to bring Peace, but a Sword." It was a splendid presentation of the truth, wiith the world outlook,comprehensive and broad,and liberal enough to include all, strong enough to assure our Christians of the verity of the fundamental facts of the Gospel. The Bishop made an impression on his hearers that will not soon fade away, and all will have bigger, better ideas of the potency of the Gospel and the everlasting vitality of the teaching of Jesus.

UNION SERVICES TONIGHT.

There will be a union service tonight at Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church. The three pastors, Rev. J. W. Duffey, of the M. E. Church, South, Rev. C R. Strauburg, of the Methodist Ptotestant Church, and G. A. Luttrell, of the Methodist Episcopal Church will speak. It is also expected that W. L. McDowell will be present. The choir of the M. E. Church south, wil sing. A splendid service is expected.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Dr. Andrew Sloan Draper, commissioner of education, of New York, died at his home in Albany yesterday, aged 64 years. Bright's disease and a recently developed weakness of the heart muscles was the cause of death.

In a moment of what the physicians say was emotional insanity, Mrs. Lillian Strang, aged 26, of Portland, Oreg., administered poison to two of her children and herself, and then shot the third and herself. Mrs. Strang probably will die.

Rev. George B. Gilbert, rector of Emanuel Episcopal Church at Killingworth, Conn., went fishing last Sunday morning before church, and the fish were so responsive he forgot the passing moments, and it was half an hour after the time for the service to begin when he hurried into the vestry armed with a fish pole and with an angler's basket thrown over his shoulder.

Mrs. John Kuzlus, a bride of three days, is in a critical condition and may die, as a result of dancing too much during her wedding festivities. The Polish custom of dancing with the bride for $1 a dance is responsible. During the 293d dance, with 293 silver dollars constituting the bride's dowry, Mrs. Kuzlus collapsed, and may not recover. She was trying to reach the 300 mark.

General Robert E. Lee is to have a splendid memorial erected to his honor in Washington. The chief feature of the monument will be a statue of heroic size of the Confederate leader. This tribute has been made possible by the gift of a Northern man, Emerson McMillin, a New York banker, who has offered $50,000 to pay for the statue. Admirers of General Lee will seek to secure a fine site for the memorial, the details of which are as yet not completed.

Ramona Borden, daughter of Gail Borden, the condensed milk manufacturer, is now in seclusion at the home of friends in a little village 20 miles north of Boston after her flight from the Pompton Lakes sanitarium. The girl refuses to tell her father at the present time the names of the women who were concerned in her strange runaway.

On the charge of misappropriating more than $70,000 intrusted to him as guardian for a young Southern girl, Alexander J. Gouley, 67 years old, of Augusta, Ga., was arrested in Baltimore last night by representatives of the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Company. A fugitive for nearly a year, during which time the detectives followed him to Ireland and back to New York, Gouley disappeared after the steamer docked in the metropolis and had not been seen by any of those who knew him until on Saturday.

Wrecking the interior of the six-story tenement house at 226 Thompson street, New York, in which most of the 22 families were hurled from their beds, hurled under falling pictures, mortar, and other debris, a bomb, the sixty-fifth to be set off since the first of the year, was exploded with deadly effect early yesterday on the fourth floor. The explosion tore a 6-foot hole in the concrete landing, loosened the stairway from the third floor to the fourth so badly that it cannot be used, and wrecked the contents of apartments and blew out every pane of glass in the rear of the structure. None of the occupants were seriously hurt.

Julia, the infant daughter of Ernest Perry, of Mundale, died at St. Luke's Hospital, in New York, from the effect of swallowing part of a wedding gift, a broken string of beads, despite the efforts of Dr. Janeway, who operated in the case. The child placed the beads in its mouth and they lodged in the thorax. Symptoms of pneumonia were noticed and the little one was hurried to New York, where, at St. Luke's Hospital, Dr. Janeway used the X-ray. Two operations were performed without success, and the child died from pneumonia, which speedily developed.

Two women and three children were burned to death in a fire that destroyed two frame barracks occupied by noncommissioned officers of the Sixth infantry and their families at the Presidio, San Francisco, Saturday night.

DIRECTORS SUED; FILE DEMURRURS

Argument Started in Suit of Receiver Against Directors of Trust. Co.

$400,000 IS INVOLVED.

Huge Sum Claimed to Have Been Lost on Acount of Negligence of Officials—Statute of Limitation Plead.

In an effort to hold the directors of the defunct Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation responsible for about $400,000 loss which was incurred by the depositors and stockholders of the company which closed its doors two years ago last December, the suit of Howard W. Smith, receiver of the bank was commenced in the Corporation Court this morning by the hearing of the demurrers of the directors to Mr. Smith's bill of complaint.

There are twelve directors named in Mr. Smith's bill, four of whom are dead, and whose administrators are being sued in their stead. In the bill of complaint it is set forth that the directors were largely responsible for the failure of the institution, that they were negligent in their management of its affairs and lelft the entire charge of the bank in the hands of C. Jones Rixey, its president and treasurer, who was able to embezzle more than $500,000 of its funds. It is also asserted that dividends were paid by the directors to the stockholders although they had not been earned.

The directors set up 46 grounds of demurrers, the principal one being that the statute of limitation protects them, as more than three years have elapsed since the negligence was alleged to have taken place.

A large number of attorneys are engaged in the case and the argument to the demurrer will raquire several days. Samuel G. Brent, Commonwealth's Attorney represents the receivers and the directors are represented by Col. Francis L. Smith, Gordner L. Boothe, J. K. M. Norton, James R. and H. B. Caton and Vernon Ford and John S. Barbour.

Should the demurrer be overruled, the suit, which is a chancey one, will be referred to a commissioner for the taking of testimony as to the lisbility of each director.

The suit was instituted two years ago by W. H. Broughton, one of the depositors. The directors demurred, and in view of a decision in the Supreme Court of appeals that a receiver and not a depositor, was the proper person to bring suit against directors for negligence in handling the affairs of the bank the demurrer in the Broughton suit was sustained and the case dismissed. Receiver Smith was then instructed to bring the present suit by Judge Louis C. Barley, of the Corporation Court.

JUROR MISSING.

Chief Goods received a telegram today from Louis Werner, chief of the Richmond Police department, asking his help in endeavoring to locate James M. Taylor, of Richmond, who was one of the 25 veniremen summoned here to take part in the Hooff trial last week. Nothing has been heard of Taylor by his family since he left Richmond on last Tuesday for Alexandria and they are greatly worried at his absence. The telegram stated that Taylor had registered at the Hotel Rammel.

According to the officials of the Corporation Court Taylor answered his name when caled on the jury last Wednesday. He was not needed on the jury and was discharged. He left the court room at once but came back Thursday morning after the other jurors had returned home. He was not registered at the Hotel Rammel while in this city.

The missing man is described as 5 feet 6-in. in height, weighs about 135 pounds and about 40 years of age.

BRICE MAKES A DENIAL.

Says Receipts From Gate at Mount Vernon Fails to Meet Expenses.

As has been expected, emphatic denial that the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association, which controls the home of George Washington, receives any compensation from any transportation company was made by Arthur T. Brice, treasurer of the association, yesterday.

It was charged in the resolution of Representative Cary, of Wisconsin, which asks for an investigation of the management of Mount Vernon, that the Marshall Hall Steamboat Company has for years paid the association 15 cents out of the round trip ticket charge of 75 cents for transportation and admission in the grounds, in addition to the 25 cents paid for the admission ticket. It is charged that the association thus receives 40 cents for every admission of a passenger on one of the boats.

Mr. Brice say that he has charge of the receipt and disbursement of all funds of the association, and that the "rebate" charge is abolutely without foundation. Visitors to the grounds pay only 25 cents as far as the association is concerned, he says, and they may go to Mount Vernon in whatever manner they choose. If they chose to pay the price of admission to the Steamboat company they may do so, and he collects 25 cents and no more for each ticket bought from the transportation company.

He says, further, that Mount Vernon is so close to Washington that there can be no monopoly or transportation as charged in the resolution.

Mr. Brice calls attention to the fact that the Ladies' Association has a charter from the State of Virginia for the property, and it is known to be valid. There is no chance in the world to vacate that charter.

Mr. Brice said that only Superintendent H. H. Dodge and other employes acutally on the place received salaries for their work. The women of the association and he himself as treasurer work ,he declared, without salaries or compensation of any sort.

The expenses of maintenance, he says, are more than the receipts from sight-seers, and to meet this outlay the association has an endowment fund, raised mainly by subscription. Funds of the association which are not immediately put back into improvements and upkeep are invested in loans, stocks and bonds.

The grand council of the Mount Vernon Ladies' Association is scheduled to meet May 9 at Mount Vernon. Miss Harriet C. Comegys, of Dover, Del., is president of the association.

CITY OF SCUTARI DURING THE SIEGE

Women Months Without Bread—300 Said to Have Starved.

APPALLING SCENES

Powers Still Considering Definite Plans For Joint Action to Head Off Austria-Hungary.

London, April 28.—In a dispatch to the London Express from Scutari, Alphonse Coulander, the war correspondent of that newspaper, tells of appalling scenes in the captured city. Coulander says:

"The siege has been terrible in its effects. The faces of the children hound me. They were starved and withered.

"Women in baggy Turkish trousers, with veiled faces, followed the soldiers, as well as their weakly limbs allowed them, to the quays, where great loaves were given them. It was the first bread they had eaten in months.

"The plight of the poorest people was fearful. Some ate grass, others any rubbish, so long as they could fill their stomachs.

"Almost 300 persons died of absolute starvation. Two thousand sick and wounded are in the hospitals."

It was confidently expected in military circles that the ambassadors of the powers, meeting in consultation at the foreign office this afternoon, would immediately formulate some definite plan for joint action regarding Scutari, in order to head off the independent action contemplated by Austria-Hungary.

Dispatches from Berlin and Rome today said that 10,000 Austria-Hungarian troops were marching on Montenegro to forcibly wrest Scutari from King Nicholas, and that an Austria-Hungarian fleet was leaving Trieste independent of the international blockading squadron to harrass the Montenegrin coast.

The situation is acute, and the rumors from Austria-Hungary are expected to goad the ambassadors into concerted action. In view of the strained relations now existing throughout Europe, diplomats realize that it would be unfortunate for any nation to move independently against Montenegro.

The six powers agreed to make Scutari the capital of Albenia, and they still adhere to that decision, but for any one power to try to coerce the little kingdom, not waiting ror the nations to act jointly, might possibly precipitate grave complications. The aloofness of Russia in the Montenegrin affair has already caused uneasiness.

WILL BUILD ANOTHER STATION.

The Slaymaker-Schneider Corporation, selling agents for Rosemont, will erect a new passenger station at the foot of Walnut street, the last street constructed in north Rosemont. This station will be constructed in the same high-class manner as the one already erected and in use at south Rosemont and will probablly be of brick. Alexandria will have reason to be proud of this handsome sub-division after all imporvements have been completed. Nothing in the National Capitol is superior to this attractive place. Eight additional handsome residences are under construction at present.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

Late Saturday afternoon while several small girls were playing at the intersection of Franklin and Royal street, they all with one accord, ran across the electric railway track in front of an approaching freight train. All but one, a little girl named Southard, succeeded in getting to the opposite side safely, but she was struck and knocked aside and off the rails. The train was moving slowly at the time, and it was stopped immediately and the child picked up. While suffering from shock, there was nothing to indicate that she had been seriously hurt.The accilent gave rise to the report that a little boy had been instantly killed at the crossing, and there was considerable anxiety in the neighborhood for a time.

CALIFORNIA AND THE JAPANESE

Secretary Bryan Finds The Situation in Sacramento Acute.

STATE FOR WHITES.

Johnson, it is Said, Seeks to Meet Popular Clamor to Drive Out Mongolians.

Sacramento, April 28.—"If California is to remain a white man's country, the Japanese as a land owner and land leaser must go."

This is the gist of information which was given Secretary of State Bryan on his arrival here today in an attempt to mitogate the severity of the pending anti-alien land law, by which the California legislature is expected to carry out the undoubted wish of the people of the state.

Bryan, on his arrival, was welcomed by Governor Johnson, whose guest he will be during his stay here.

Then, from the mouths of both the progressives leaders in the legislature nad from the Democrats as well, he was given a first hand story of the real reason of the present agitation to exclude from land ownership all aliens who are not eligible to citizenship. Briefly, what Bryan was told was as follows:

"California has nothing against the Japanese as citizens. It has no objection to their living in the State or engaging in scholarly or mercantile pursuits. But there is a great and growing objection to their growing up on the land and forming colonies of non-assiminable aliens with which the whites will not and cannot mix, and with whom they cannot economically compete."

PRESENTS TO THE CRAFT

Masonic Pitchers or Jugs Placed in Alexandria Washington Lodge

The two very valuable Masonic pitchers or jugs which were recently presented to Alexandria-Washington Lodge by Mr. John G. Wallis, P. G. D. C., of the Humber Installed Masters' Lodge, No. 2494, of Hull, Yorkshire, England, are being inspected by visitors to the lodge room. Mr. Wallis is a cousin of Prof. Wallis, of the Episcopal Theological Seminary, near this city, and he sent these pitchers, or as they are called in England, jugs, to Prof. Wallis especially for Alexandria-Washington lodge. Dr. W. W. Smith kindly acted as the personal presenter for Mr. J. G. Wallis, in the meeting of the lodge.

The smaller jug is about one hundred years old. Its height is 5 1-2 inches and is 3 inches across the mouth. It is of Liverpool ware and is very valuable as being one of three jugs in existence known to have the Masonic hymn on one side as follows:

Hail Masonry divine
Glory of ages shine;
Long mayst thou reign,
Where'er our lodges stand
May they have great command
And always grace the land
Thou ART Divine.

On the other side appear the Masonic arms with the motto: Sit Lux, et Lux Fuit. The pitcher is white and the decorations black. Around the hymn is a wreath filled with Masonic decorations

The other jug is a beautiful and rare one of Sunderland lustre and belongs to the period between 1570 and 1800. It is 7 3-8 inches high and four inches in diameter across the mouth. it is the only specimen which has been found during the past few years and several towns in England have been searched for jugs of this particular make and design. The inscription on one side is:

The sailor lost on stormy seas,
Though far his bark may roam,
Still hears a voice in every breeze,
That wakens thoughts of home;
He thinks upon his distant friends,
His wife, his humble cot;
And from his inmost heart ascends
The prayer—Forget Me Not

The decoration on this side consists of red circles round the verse, yellow dashes within the circle and green spots also encircle it. The front of the jug is decorated with Masonic ars. On the other side occurs the following quaint verse:

"This world is a good one to live in,
To lend, to spend, to buy or to give in,
But to beg, borrow, or get a man's own,
It is such a world as never was known"

The verse is surrounded with a red circle, having green spots around it on the outside.

Mr. Wallis has been and is still an enthusiastic collector of Masonic china and glass. He possessed until recently the finest cabinet of specimens of each in England, but has presented them to the lodge in Hull. His son, Mr. Herbert Wallis, also a devoted Mason, has written an interesting paper on Masonic china and glass, a copy of which is to be presented to the Alexandria-Washington Lodge. Mr. John G. Wallis, who is prominent in English Masonic circles, made a short visit to Alexandria and the Seminary some years ago, and was very much interested in the old town and its traditions in connection with Washington. It was a great pleasure to him to be able to give a contribution to the historic Alexandria-Washington lodges.

ARCHDEACON LLOYD DEAD.

Native of Alexandria Dies at Salem Following Stroke of Paralysis-- Funeral This Afternoon

The sad intelligence was received in Alexandria yesterday of the death in Salem, yesterday morning at 2 o'clock of Rev. John J. Lloyd, D. D., archdeacon of the Protestant Episcopal Church in Southwestern Virginia, who was paralyzed at Salem Monday, while attending the Southwest Virginia convocation.

Dr. Lloyd, who was a native of this city, was one of the best known churchmen of the Southern diocese of Virginia, having been rector of several prominent churches and archdeacon of Southwest Virginia for five years. He was 63 years of age, having been born at Mt. Ida, near Alexandria, in 1850. He entered the Episcopal ministry in 1876, when he was ordained by Bishop Whittle. From 1878 to 1880 he was in charge of a church in Bedford City and later was rector of the Abingdon Episcopal Church. In 1893 he took charge of Grace-Memorial, one of the largest Episcopal churches in Lynchburg, resigning in 198 to become archdeacon.

He was a brother of Dr. Arthur S. Lloyd, formerly bishop coadjutor of the diocese of Virginia, and now president of the board of foreign and domestic missions, with headquarters in New York City. His wife, two sons, and Dr. J. J. Lloyd, of Catawba Sanitorium and are Rev. Herbert Lloyd, a missionary in Japan, and one daughter, Mrs. Raymond Thayer, of New York. He was a brother of Mrs. George Uhler, of this city.

The funeral will take place in Lynchburg this afternoon. Rev. W.E. Rollins, one of the professors at the Theological Seminary left this morning for Lynchburg to represent the seminary at the funeral. Dr. Lloyd was one of the trustees of the Seminary.

Dr. Lloyd was stricken with paralysis Monday night, after returning from church. He was bright and talking before retiring and seemed to be in better health than he had been for weeks, but after retiring he was stricken. He had been in ill health for some time, and although the fact that this was his first stroke of paralysis was accounted to his favor, his friends were anxious about him from the time of hearing of his attack.

The "Dust-Vac"

A New Low-Priced Sanitary Suction Sweeper

One of the simplest and easiest suction Sweepers ever invented. It works exactly the same as a carpet sweeper, being pushed oevr the carpet or rugs, and the wheels upon which it travels operate the suction mechanism.

This simple little machine has wonderful appetite for collecting dirt. Its strength and capacity in this respect connot be surpassed. It will not only keep your carpets and rugs clean, but will preserve the texture and keep them looking fresh and new. The suction is terrific, not only drawing the dirt from the carpets and rugs, but also from the floor beneath them.

This sweeper is also fitted with a brush in the nozle which loosens the compact dirt and picks up the ravels and threads. No other hand-power cleaner has this essential feature.

The "Dust Vac" is the ideal cleaner—light, compact, low enough to go under any furniture, easily operated. Priced at only $7.00

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

SAYS SHE IS A VIRGINIAN.

Woman Charged With Larceny Claims to Have Been Born in Prince William.

New York, April 28.—"Mrs. Fitzhugh," awaiting trial on a charge of stealing mesh bags from society women, and whose real identity has puzzled the police of several cities, has disclosed a part of her life history.

She says: "I belong to the "fighting Randolphs of Virginia," and when my case goes to trial my real and unquestioned standing will be known."

The young woman was told that advices from Falls Church, Va., stated that she was Catherine Fennell, and that at one time she had been in an insane asylum at Staunton, Va. She grew indignant and declared:

"The statement that I am Catherine Fennell, a notorious woman, known to the police of Washington, is absolutely false. I was born in Prnce William county, near Manassas, Va., and, while my first name is Catherine, my surname is not Fennell.

"I was educated in a convent, and after graduation went to Chicago, where I married Fitzhugh Randolph. He died, and when I returned to Fairfax, Va., I contracted typhoid fever. During the fever I was delirious, and have been told that I tried to kill several people. I went to the Western State Hospital in Staunton, Va., where I gradually recovered. That was four years ago. In 1911 I married Alfred S. Northup, a government lawyer in Washington, and we have a little son, fifteen months old, named Jack. But we separated before the baby was born for several reasons which I cannot talk about now.

HELD FOR VIRGINIA.

H. M. Thornton Charged With Swindling Staunton Banker.

Washington, April 28.—The authorities were notified yesterday that Henry M. Thornton, who was arrested Wednesday in the alleged act of attempting to swindle Representative Howard, of Georgia, and who is said to have been successful in other attempts here, is wanted by the police of Staunton, Va., for an alleged similar swindle perpetrated on President Echols, of the Valley National Bank of Staunton, just before he came to Washington the last time. The Staunton authorities were instructed in turn to prepare the necessary papers for Thornton's custody, so that when he is released here he can be taken to Virginia. Thornton's release here, however, is not likely to take place for a long time, the police say.

According to the story of Thornton's operations in Staunton, he first went there with a letter of introduction from a close friend of Mr. Echol's, and the latter entertained him in his own home. As in other instances, some mail came for Thornton presently, and the banker unsuspectingly cashed a check that one of the letters contained. Thornton went away and the check came back not good. Then it was learned that the letter of introduction was a forgery.

SCHOOL CONTROVERSY ENDS.

Harrisonburg Town Council Votes Requisite Sum of Money.

Harrisonburg, Va., April 28.—The public school controversy which raged in Harrisonburg for weeks came to a happy conclusion Saturday night when the town council voted the sum of $11,500 for the school fund for the coming year and promised more if needed. About two months ago the council inaugurated an "investigation.' A special committee investigated and then came out with a startling report suggesting that the fund be cut down to $10,000 and recommending the town superintendency be abolished, three teachers to be dropped and that the course in music and business be dispensed with. The town was in arms for weeks. Panic reigned among the teachers. Citizens fired cards of protest through the daily papers. Voluminous petitions were circulated and signed. The special committee and the school board fired several broadsides at each other in the papers. Then followed a period of quiet and the final settlement of the question to the satisfaction of all.

EUROPE OUTWITTED.

Essad Pasha, Defender of Scutari, Declares Himself King of Albania.

Paris, April 28.—Europe has had an additional new sovereign since midday. A dispatch to the Intransigunt states that Essad Pasha, Turkish defender of Scutari, declared himself King of Albania at the Tirana Chancellories today after notifying the governments at London, Paris and St. Petersburg in advance. This unprepared move has upset the calculations of the powers, who had agreed that the Duke of Montpensier should become the ruler of the new kingdom.

The new king of Albania, has 25,000 well-armed mountaineers to sustain him, and the Balkan allies fell favorable toward Essad Pasha. It is said that the King of Montenegro made a treaty with Esasd Pasha before the capitulation of Scutari which enabled the latter to carry out his ambition.

The former Turkish general is descended from an old Albanian family which tried to throw off the yoke of Turkey in the eighteenth century. This explains why he was willing to risk leaving Scutari to Montenegro, so that he might govern Albania with the consent of the allied Balkan states and snap his fingers at the rest of Europe. It is now evident why Essad Pasha surrendered Scutari on the condition that his troops be allowed to evacuate the city with their arms and ammunition.

Archduke Franz Ferdinand, Austrian heir to the throne, is furious because the outwitted powers cannot possibly object to a native Albanian prince.

STORM PUTS OUT BIG FIRE.

Blaze in Hotel Endangered Lives of Guests, Including a Woman.

Williamsport, Pa., April 28.—A heavy thunder shower that passed over the lower end of Lycoming county early yesterday morning extinguished a fire that already had destroyed the hotel and postoffice building at Allenwood, and was spreading to other structures.

Three guests, a woman and two men were rescued with difficulty by means of a ladder. The town has no fire-fighting apparatus, and a bucket brigade was unable to cope with the flames. While the fire raged a thunder shower brought a heavy rain that quenched the flames.

Rev. W. C. Griffith, 70 years old, a retired Methodist minister, died yesterday of paralysis at his home in Hagerstown, Md. Mr. Griffith served a number of pastorates in Maryland and Virginia and for a time practiced law in Hagerstown and Baltimore county.

APPLY MATCH TO HORSE'S TAIL

Detective Gives This as Cause of Fire Which Destroyed Stable.

Richmond, April 28.—That the boyish prank of setting fire to a horse's tail was the cause of fire which destroyed the frame stable in the rear of 523 North Fourth street, owned by H. L. Terry, last Tuesday afternoon is the explanation of Detective-Sergeant Wiley, who was detailed to look into the matter.

Following the destruction of the stable and the loss of two valuable horses, owned by Howard Hicks, Mr Terry had reason to believe that the blaze was of incendiary origin and reported the matter to Captain of Detectives McMahon. Wiley was assigned to the case.

From Mary Johnson, an old colored woman, who lives in the rear of 511 North Fourth street, he learned that two small boys were seen playing with matches before the fire went into it

Wiley had no difficulty in locating the youngsters, each seven years old While both admitted they had been playing with matches each accused the other of setting fire to the tail of one of the horses. The blaze thus created spread to the hay and straw in the stall and quickly ate its way into the frame work.

The matter was referred to the officials of the Juvenile Court, and it was determined that in view of the age of the two boys it would be impossible to attempt to prosecute them. It is not believed that any official action will be taken in the case.

STRIKE IN PERTH AMBOY.

The Sheriff Has 275 Men Ready to Preserve Order.

Perth Amboy, N. J., April 28.—More than 2,000 men employed by the Güggenheim American Smelting and Refining Company joined the strikers of other industries about Perth Amboy today. This brings the number of men out on strike to more than five thousand.

In anticipation of trouble when the whistle blew this morning, Sheriff Bellschweller swore in 100 more deputies. He now has 275 men.

"At the first sign of trouble," said the sheriff, "I shall call on the governor for the militia. The situation here will be too much for the peace officer of a county to handle in case trouble starts."

The workers in the Terra Cotta works, it is expected, will go on strike May 1.

Death of Aged Woman.

Petersburg, Va., April 28.—Joe Williams, an employe at Moore's tobacco warehouse, has been notified of the death of his grandmother in Dinwiddie county, near McKenney. The old woman was familiarly known in the county as "Aunt Polly," and she was 115 years of age. Her grandson, Joe Williams, is between 55 and 60 years old.

Frost Injures Early Fruit.

Harrisonburg, Va., April 28,—From all parts of Rockingham and adjoining counties reports have come of the serious injury to fruit by the frost and cold weather. Early fruits, such as cherries, apricots and plums, have been entirely destroyed in many places. The apple crop was also hard hit in many places.

THE PRESIDENT SPEAKS OUT.

One innovation that President Wilson has put into effect that is refreshing is the manner in which he lets his own opinions be known. Nowadays we read in the Washington dispatches statements which come direct from the head of the executive government and the words "The President says" has taken the place of "one high in authority has given it out," or "it is stated in administrations circles," or "a member of the President's official family has indicated," and much more to the same ambiguous effect. With reference to the California-Japanese tangle, "the President said." In answer to a question touching the probable course of the United States government with respect to drafting another treaty with Russia, "the President said." It does not matter so much what the President said, but the significant fact is that he speaks for himself in a straightforward, American fashion; and thereby one of the most moss-grown traditions of the office has gone all to smash.

JAPANESE WAR TALK NOT SERIOUS.

The American eagle has ever been represented with an olive branch in its right talon and arrow in its left—the exact reverse of the Roman eagle—meaning that this country unlike the empire of the other days is not aggressive but prefers to be at peace with all the world. The arrows however are mute signs that the United States will fight if diplomacy fails.

The chronic Japanese imbroligio is again in evidence. Virginia three years ago did precisely what California now desires to do—prevent natives of other countries who cannot become citiens of the United States from holding land in her realms. Judge Waddill's decision in the United States District Court in the case of a Japanese affirms California's contenkion.

The issue with Japan bobs up every few years, Americans become apprehensive and imagines the Mikado will give Uncle Sam a rude awakening. The Island kingdom has many unthinking people, as has every other country, and they imagine their navy which attacked Russia in an ungarded moment is the Jupiter Tonans of the twentieth century, and should be set on any country that has the temerity to take a stand against the aggressive brown man.

The talk of over-sensitive Japanese, the power of its navy and possible eventualities, while said to be disclaimed by those holding the reins in Nippon, have long since been regarded a sa harmless scarecrows.

"WHAT'S IN A NAME"

What's in a name, some one has said,
and I have wondered why We're designated by the names our friends all call us by,
Now Tom is not Fisher, nor Ned a
Hunter, yet,
They're termed as such,whene'er upon the highways they are met.

Eugene is not a Taylor,he vever sewed a thread,
And certainly Elmer Timberman has not a wooden head,
The Rev'rend Carpenter would not on saws and chisels look,
And surely Howard is no Smith, nor Theodore a Cook.

We call him Doctor Snowden, but the chances are that he Was never snowed-in in his life, and doubtless ne'er will be,
And so these gentlemen, who all are winning boundless fame,
Will probably agree that there is nothing in a name.

Some people keep poor loafing around and feigning what they would do with some other fellow's money, if they had it.

It won't be long now before the old man will be wondering whether it would be cheaper to give mother and the girls two weeks at the springs, or two months down in the country.

You'd know it was spring, if you didn't see
The green grass springing and the green trees bud,
For the kids are gambling so happy and free,
And then you hear the bat hit the ball
with a thud

FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. J. P. Smith to Lecture in Baltimore Next Friday.

On the evening of May 2, 1863, Stonewall ackson, while far in advance of his line of men in the dense woods and thickets, near Chancellorsville, was shot from his horse, and this powerful Confederate leader was forever lost to the cause he championed. Friday night next will complete the fiftieth year since that event and on that evening in McCoy Hall, Rev. James Power Smith, of Richmond, Va., who as a lieutenant, was the personal aid of General Jackson, will tell the true story of the occurrence. Dr. Smith helped to beat the wounded soldier through the awful storm of shot and shell that was being hurled from the Union batteries back to a place of safe. Dr. Smith's desire is to inform the people of Baltimore of a movement in Richmond and elsewhere looking to the erection of an equestrian statue of Jackson and to interest the people on the subject.

Ram Katahdin Sunk.

Norfolk, Va., April 25.—According to reports received in this city the ram Katahdin was sunk in Chesapeake bay after being twice torpedoed by the battleships Delaware and Rhode Island, and the monitor Tallahasee, The Katahdin was used as a target in determining the value of a new kind of explosive used in the making of torpedoes. The old ram was anchored near the mouth of the Potomac river in shoal water to prevent her from being completely submerged if she went down.

A turret shaped target, made of heavy armor plate, was constructed on her deck, and the torpedoes were aimed at this. Unofficial reports say one of the torpedoes tore a big hole in the side of the Katahdin below the water line, causing her to settle in the mud.

A New Kind of Roofing

Asphalt Gravel That Will Last Ten Years—Can Be Used Anywhere.

Cumberland, Md.—Among the many improvements at the Y. M. C. A. Building is the asphalt gravel roof (Security brand) that was put on under the direction of Mr. Adam May.

A fairy tale is told about this roofing by Mr. A. M. Strickland, of Elkton, Md. About ten years ago he built at the Elkton foundry and covered the roof with Security Asphalt Gravel Roofing and four years afterward the building and contents were consumed by fire. Nothing was left but the walls and roofing.

Being of an economical turn of mind he ordered the carpenters to cut down the roofing in strips, losing only the laps.

He used these strips of roofing on the new foundry building and it is in good condition today after ten years of active service.

It would be difficult to believe such a tale, because tin, iron and slate or any other composition roofing would have gone to smash or curled up and blown away in such a conflagration.

There is reason to believe this is true, because it stood the test in a similar fire in the B. & O. hay shed at Mt. Clare station, Baltimore, some years ago.

This roofing can be purchased of

NEWS OF THE WORLD.

Almost the entire estate of $1,000,000 of William Chitney Borden, the young missionary who died at Cairo, Egypt, April 9, is left to foreign missionary work, according to the terms of his will filed for probate Friday in Chicago.

Catholic clergymen are forbidden to drive their own or ride in automobiles, according to an edict published in the Rhenish Prussian Bishopric of Treves. The head of the diocese declares that the use of automobiles is inconsistent with the humility which should adorn the clergy and, furthermore automobiling has been the frequent cause of the financial embarrassment of priests. Treves, situated picturesquely on the Moselle river, is probably the oldest town in Germany. It is a Catholic stronghold of about 50,000 inhabitants.

Murder in the first degree was the verdict of the court in the case of Norman Bruce McCleary, whose trial for the murder of Mrs. Nannie B. Henry was concluded in the Circuit Court at Rockville, Md., Friday afternoon after having consumed nine days. The defendant was immediately sentenced to the Maryland Penitentiary.

A powerful bomb, composed of two pounds of high explosives, and studded with a battery of steel-jacketed 38-calibre cartridges, all hidden in a hand-painted beribboned candy box to which a long fuse had been attached, was discovered a few seconds before it was due to explode in the Bund Building, at the corner of Ninth and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia late Friday afternoon. The bomb had been placed on a window sill near the desk of Robert L. Coates manager of the L. P. White Watch Case Company, on the second floor of the building. A part of the building is occupied by . E. Caldwell & Co., jewelers. The police are of the opinion that there may have been a scheme to partially wreck the building to cover a robbery upon the Caldwell firm by jewel bandits.

The residence of Emile Froment Meurice, 46 Rue d'Anjou, in one of the most aristocratic quarters of Paris, collapsed Friday killing M. FromentMeurice and his wife, M. Froment-Meurice was one of the most celebrated goldsmiths in Europe. He was a descendant of the painter Rubens and his family is prominent in Paris society. One of his sons, Francois, is a well-known municipal councillor and another is a celebrated sculptor. M. Froment-Meurice and his wife were alone in the house at the time of the accident with their little grandson. The child escaped with slight injuries. The digging of foundations for a large apartment house on the plot alongside the residence of M. Froment-Meurice is believed to have caused the house to fall.

Lured by a telephone call to a vacant house at 3128 South Michigan avenue, Chicago, Friday, Mrs. Emma M. Robinson, a trained nurse, was met at the door by a negro, who knocked her down, dragged her into the basement, bound her hands and feet and menaced her with a razor, according to the story she told the police. Mrs. Robinson said she was in the house four hours before she succeeded in loosening her bonds and escaping by breaking a window. She was cut about the face and hands, and when she appeared at a neighboring house a servant who answered the door thought she was insane and refused to admit her. The neighborhood contains the homes of several citizens of prominence, and up to a few years ago was one of the most exclusive residence sections of the South Side.

James Johnson, alias Portland Ned, famous cracksman, serving ten years for a $10,000 safe robbery at Spartanburg, S. C., was paroled by Governor Blease Friday.

Mrs. Callie S. Applebaum was Friday afternoon found not guilty of the murder of her husband, J. A. Applebaum, a Chicago traveling salesman found dead in an Atlanta Hotel several weeks ago.

Bertha Capps, 15-year-old daughter of the Rev. Marion Capps, of White Bluff, Ark., sentenced to hang for killing his three children, yesterday confessed she had testified falsely against her father. It was the testimony of the girl and that of her brother, Ellis, 13 years old, that convicted Capps. It is said the boy also has repudiated the story he told at the trial. The girl testified she had been tied in an oil-soaked bed. She said that she saw her father leave her room and lock the door before the fire gained headway. The room was saturated with oil she swore, and oil-soaked clothing had been scattered about. In her confession she denies each of these statements, and now says that the fire undoubtedly was caused by an exploding oil lamp.

Crusade on Flies Should Begin at Once.

The city health officer announces that he will be pleased to receive from local merchants any contribution in the form of trade or creditslips, good for merchandise to the value of $1.00 or more. Such orders for merchandise will be offered to children as special prizes in the fly swatting campaign. Contributions should be sent in at once, as now is the time to destroy the fly, before he begins to breed in large numbers.

Fly boxes which are to be distributed to local merchants by the health office have arrived, and any merchant who desires a supply of these boxes for distribution to children, who will call at their stores for them, can get them free of charge by calling at the health office in the city hall.

MUST REMOVE RUBBISH.

People Who Place Debris in Streets or Alleys May be Proceeded Against.

Now that the authorities are endeavoring to have the city cleaned up, it is well to inform occupants of houses that the city carts are not expected to remove old bats, tin cans, tree trimmings, etc., that are often placed in alleys and streets.

The law provides for the removal of ashes when placed where the men employed by the street department can get at them, but people who place debris of any sort in street or alley render themselves liable to a fine.

Many citizens are viewing with the authorities in the work of cleaning up the city, not only in abating nuisances and obliterating such substances as would cause disease, but also in clearing away unsightly accumulations in streets and alleys and on premises of residents of the city.

If some people prefer to be untidy and continue to place unsightly piles of brickbats, tin cans and other debris in the streets and alleys, the authorities have but one course of procedure, and that is to cite the offenders before the Police Court.

It is hoped, however, that there will be no need of such drastic action, and that those who have thoughtlessly been guilty of this breach of the law will have the unsightly piles removed at once.

DEATH OF MISS ADDISON.

Former Resident of Alexandria Dies in Washington on Saturday.

Miss Elizabeth Hesselius Addison, daughter of the late Dr. Edmond B. and Eliza Bowie Addison, died in Washington on Saturday after a long illness.

She was born in Baltimore county, Maryland, where her father had a large medical practice. About 45 years ago Dr. Addison removed to Alexandria and settled on upper King street, where he remained until after the war, then removed to the house on Washington street, where Mr. Isaac Eichberg now lives. 25 years ago the family removed to Washington.

Miss Addison had a host of friends in this city and wherever she was known. She was deservedly loved for many excellent characteristics, her lovely disposition, her gentle and genial temperament and her many christian virtues.

She is survived by two sisters, Misses Katherine Duckett, and Mary G., and four brothers, Edmond B., of Richmond, Walter D. of California, Charles G. of Prince George county, Maryland, and Thomas D. of Fairfax county, and a large number of nieces and nephews.

The funeral takes place from her late residence, 1520 P street northwest, Washington, tomorrow at 11:30 a. m. Interment private in Rock Creek Cemetery.

Circuit Court to Hear Southern Building Suit Next Monday.

The Circuit Court of Alexandria county will be continued until Saturday when Judge Thornton will adjourn court and open the circuit court of Alexandria city on next Monday morning. Among the important cases to be heard on that date is the petition of a number of stockholders of the Southern Building Corporation, formerly owners of the Southern Building, at the corner of 15th and H street, Washington, for a receiver for the company and the setting aside of the sale of the building to the two insurance companies which purchased it a year ago.

CHANGE IN THE WEATHER.

Mercury Takes a Decided Tumble Since Yesterday.

The warm weather of last week passed away Saturday night and at an early hour yesterday morning there was rain accompanied by thunder and lightning. The weather continued rainy during the day with a chilly northwest wind. Overcoats were brought out and fires were found to be needed again.

Moderate cool weather will prevail the greater part of the week in the northwestern States and early in the week throughout the North Central and Eastern States, with temperatures averaging near normal throughout the South and Southwest, according to the Weather Bureau's weekly bulletin.

"Frosts are probable Monday and Tuesday in the region of the Great Lakes and the Ohio Valley and Tuesday and Wednesday in the North Atlantic states.

"The precipitation during the week will be generally below normal. A disturbance of moderate intensity that is now in the Northwest will move slowly eastward crossing the great Central Valleys about Thursday and the Eastern States near the end of the week. It will be preceded by warmer weather over the northern half of the country.

"Another disturbance will appear in the far west about Thursday and prevail over the Middle West at the close of the week."

Washington, April 28.—Richard D. Larkin, 77 years old, a Confederate veteran of the Seventh Virginia cavalry, died yesterday morning at his residence, 1444 W street, northwest, after a short illness. Mr. Larkin moved from Prince William county, Va., to Washington in 1905.
